

How do you talk about it
It is impossible to just start
How do you know where it all began
It is misunderstood since there are no words to describe it
Why is it even necessary
It is not
How do you make it go away
It is sneaky
Does it have to be so mean
It can appear anywhere
Does anyone else feel this way
It does not care
Why is it so complicated
There is no end to its torture
What is feeding it
Its hold is strong
What did one do to deserve it
It knows
Is what it tells the truth
It makes the world too much
How did it get in
It is strong
Will it never end
It brings friends
How to make it silent
It will never let me go
How do I make all this go away...
